

PRESS RELEASE

Printmakers Council

TIME

7th – 20th February 2020

The Printmakers Council invites you to find the time to join us in exploring the concept of Time in both traditional and innovative forms printmaking.

Historically determined by the rising and setting of the sun, our modern lifestyles push against the natural rhythms of rest and labour, while astrophysical research challenges our understanding of time itself. Time is a fascinating and engrossing subject for us all.

All work is for sale.

Events

15 minute talks Sunday 9th February 2-3pm.

Create a print in a 10 minutes. Workshop on Sunday 16th February 2-4pm.

Founded in 1965 by artists including Julian Trevelyan, Michael Rothenstein, Anthony Gross and Agatha Sorel, the Printmakers Council promotes the place of printmaking in the visual arts by:

- Providing information on prints and printmaking to its 250 members and the public
- Encouraging co-operation and exchanges between artists, galleries and printmaking studios and associations
- Holding regular exhibitions of original prints in the UK and abroad
